

Billy L. Sandifer

March 30, 2018

Flour Bluff, Texas

Billy L. Sandifer

Died on Friday, March 30, 2018 at his residence following an extended illness.

Services are pending

Tribute Wall

BS

“ I never had the good fortune to meet Billy, but I share his name and his spirit, as a conservationist, birder, kayaker, and coyote defender. My family also claims Native American blood, very proud of that. Smooth waters always, Captain.

Bill Sandifer, Tulalip WA

---

Bill Sandifer - April 20, 2020 at 02:28 PM

CD

“ Can't believe you're gone Billy...first Ralph and now you....We're gonna miss you. I'll never forget our visits and the books you loaned me and the stories you told me. I learned so much about the Isla Blanca from you. Thought we had more time....Rest In Peace Cap....just as you loved Padre, I'll love it all the more thanks to you...

---

Colin R. Davis - April 02, 2018 at 08:49 AM

GH

“ Please accept our deepest sympathies to the passing of Capt. Billy, I would read his articles first when I got the TSFM each month. My wife and I met Billy in 2015 at our first Big Shell Cleanup and I told him my favorite story was about the flute and Billy looked at me and laughed and said, And I ain't caught that damn Indian yet! I'll bet you'll find him now! Next time I'm in South Padre I'll cast a fly in your honor. Greg and Peggy Harrison Ennis, Texas

---

Greg Harrison - April 01, 2018 at 01:32 PM