“ I'll never forget the time a bat got into the house & landed in your hair & you were screaming to get it out lol. Or the time wello let your birds (Quaker's) go out the front door & you were yellin at him 😞.. Everytime I feel sad about you leaving .. I just remember these moments & everything seems okay for the moment. Idk if we will ever be okay again .. I'm still in shock n denial trying to process that you are no longer on this earth with us .. you will forever hold a special place in my heart. I love you so very much

“ To my nana

*I want to start off by saying thank you. Thank you for waking me each morning at 6am for school w my favorite breakfast. & Thank you for all the homemade meals after. Thank you for raising me when mom was sick & she could not bare to get out of bed. Thank you for all the peppermints you've shared with me after you would get out of work. Thank you for all the love n support you've given me these past 24 years of my life. I will never ever forget all the memories & moments we've made & shared. From watching Wheel of Fortune to El Chavo.. & laughing at silly boost / Geico commercials. I loved going with you to get your haircut & loved going into town with you just to get a few things for the house. There was countless times you would let me sleep right next to you bc I just didn't feel like being alone in my room because Sara had moved out..& it was just me at the time.. Thank you for being the best Nana in the entire world. I promise to share memories & stories of you to my babies. You will never be forgotten. There's so much more that I'd love to say but to be honest my head just isn't in the right place since you've gained your wings. But just know I love you so very much & I'm so thankful n grateful you were my nana & apart of my life. Till we meet again my sweet angel. Love
