“ Correction, from previous post: it was a Guadalupe Lamb on facebook and not Marcos Lamb that I tried to contact but received no response.

Your Cousin,

“ My condolences to the Family of Chavela Lamb Rodriguez, my beloved cousin. It has been a while since I have seen her, but her memory will always be with me. To my cousins, Marcos, Richard, Noe, Pollie, Olga and Gloria - I have been thinking about you even before Chavela's passing. I dreamt Tio Lupe and he was telling me that his name was Guadalupe Miguel - Perhaps, he was trying to tell me something. Since then, I have been searching our Geneology and found Marcos on Facebook, I left him a message, but have not heard from him. I remember going to a ranch in Alice with a windmill and the good food Tia Simona use to prepare for us. May God be with you all and know that my thoughts and prayers are with all of you. I believe that she is now with Tio Lupe and Tia Simona and Miguel and others of her family and they are celebrating her joining them again. I am Maria Lamb Wallace, daughter of Enrique and Simona Lamb.

“ I have wonderful memories growing up with my Tia Chavela. During the summer months i would spend a week or more with her, Tio Miguel and Johnny. She would introduce me to the neighborhood children so I could connect with them and have a play time. We'd go shopping. I so enjoyed my time with her.

This beautiful lady never had a mean bone in her body. She was truly beautiful inside and out. Blessed are we, her family and friends, for having her in our life.

John, Michelle and Vanessa - I say to you, it's ok to cry, crying cleanses the soul. Take time to grieve - its leads to acceptance and healing. Having lost Joe many years ago, the sense of his loss was great but when the healing began - it was grand. I knew he was where he was suppose to be and I would be ok.

When I received word that Tia Chavela had died, I immediately got this vision of those heavenly gates opening up for her. She had a huge smile on her face because there were her loved ones who predeceased her, waiting for her with open arms. She is definitely where she belongs. We cherished her for a long time here on earth, but it was her time to go.

Love to you all!

Bebe
