“ Tammy was one of my dearest friends in high school. We shared so many things, but she became a sister to me during that awkward teenage phase. After she moved to California we stayed in touch and spoke several times a year, and had plans for a spring time reunion now that she was here in Texas again. She meant so very much to me, and I will miss her so very much. She loved you kids more than anything always talking about all of your accomplishments, and that beautiful grandbaby. I hate that she wont be here for the second one, or more. She was a wonderful shining light in this world.
